Securing skilled workers with WIFI International –
Your partner for qualified skilled workers from abroad

Qualified migration: an opportunity for Austria's economy

Demographic change and increasing digitalization: Austrian companies need qualified specialists to remain competitive. The domestic pool of skilled workers cannot fully meet these requirements.

The solution:
international skilled workers for the Austrian labor market.

Education, professional and personal skills and international cooperation play a central role in the development and strengthening of global labor markets. This is precisely where WIFI International comes into play:

- As an educational partner for the global world of work, WIFI International prepares skilled workers from third countries for the requirements of the Austrian labor market.

You want us to train:
skilled workers from abroad for Austrian companies

WIFI International supports Austrian companies and the International Skilled Workers Initiative of the Austrian Federal Economic Chamber with educational initiatives that promote qualified labor migration. The focus is on identifying existing skills and developing targeted and sustainable competencies.

These educational initiatives specifically prepare international skilled workers for the requirements of the Austrian labor market. This is based on subject-specific testing procedures such as language placement tests and work trials, supplemented by industry-specific, language, and intercultural training that facilitates integration into the labor market.

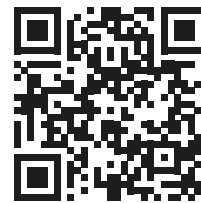

Our commitment to the global world of work: services that ensure qualified personnel

- Support for international assessments
- Higher qualification of foreign professionals before labor migration by improving their professional skills
- Intercultural screenings to identify strengths and areas where support is needed
- Language placement tests with language level certification in accordance with the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR)
- Tailor-made language and specialist courses
- Intercultural preparation courses (country and work culture, communication, etc.)
- Preparation for ÖSD language diploma

The key to skilled worker immigration: competence assessment

Language placement tests are an important tool in skilled worker immigration. The language level determined in these tests provides essential information for course selection, progress measurement, job applications, and advanced courses.

Good enough for the Austrian job market? Test your language skills in German or English here!

Subject-specific skills assessments through work trials, supplemented by practical professional discussions that reveal specialist knowledge, abilities, skills, and adaptability. This allows skill gaps to be identified and closed. WIFI International uses a three-stage testing procedure for this purpose:
